Find a primary care provider

Find a primary care provider

Let's search for a primary care provider near where you live.

Starting on March 1, 2018, the MassHealth program will be adding new health plan choices for you to enroll in. You can use this site to see which primary care providers will be available in the Accountable Care Organizations (ACOs).

You can use the links below to find primary care providers in the Managed Care Organizations (MCOs) and the Primary Care Clinician (PCC) Plan.

Remember, if you are looking for a primary care provider (PCP) that is in the following health plans: Primary Care Clinician (PCC) Plan, BMC HealthNet Plan, or Tufts Health Together, use the link at the top of the search box. It will link you to the health plan's Find a Doctor tool

Finding a Primary Care Provider

- When entering a home address, you'll be asked to enter by street address, zip code, or city/town.

The screenshot shows a web form titled "Find a primary care provider" with a teal header. Below the header, the text reads: "Let's search for a primary care provider near where you live." followed by explanatory text about the March 1, 2018 update and links to BMC HealthNet Plan, Tufts Health Together, and the Primary Care Clinician (PCC) Plan. The form contains three radio buttons for "Address" (selected), "ZIP code", and "City/Town". Below these are two sections: "Located within" with a dropdown menu set to "25 miles of", and "Address" with a text input field labeled "Enter a street address". There is also a "City/Town" section with a text input field labeled "Enter a city/town". A blue "Next" button is at the bottom right. Three purple arrows point from the top-left bullet point to the "Address" radio button, the "25 miles of" dropdown, and the "Enter a street address" field. A blue arrow points from the bottom-left bullet point to the "City/Town" section.

*These are the Primary Care ACO health plans. These health plans are not available for enrollment until March 1, 2018.

Searching for a Primary Care Provider (PCP)

- You can use the MassHealth Provider Directory to search for a primary care provider (PCP) ONLY for the Primary Care Clinician (PCC) Plan or in the MassHealth Network (Fee-for-Service).
- If you are searching for a PCP in one of the three Primary Care ACO health plans or the Accountable Care Partnership Plan you should use the Find a Primary Care Provider tool on www.MassHealthChoices.com. If you are searching for a PCP in a Managed Care Plan, you should visit that plan's website, which can be found at www.MassHealthChoices.com
- The grid at the top of the website is a tool that can help you to determine if you are using the appropriate site for your search.

- This PCP search is intended only to be used for the PCC Plan and MassHealth Network, the search restricts your ability to select a Primary Care provider type when you choose one of the three Primary Care ACO health plans.
- In addition to the message, the Primary Care drop-down is disabled to prevent users from searching for a PCP in one of the Primary Care ACOs.

Searching for a PCP – Plans Accepted

When the only plan accepted is MassHealth Network, that means it is a Fee-for-Service only provider.

When the provider accepts both the MassHealth Network and the PCC Plan, but there are no plans effective 3/1/18, it means that provider will continue to participate in the PCC Plan come 3/1/18.

Searching for a PCP – Plans Accepted

There are some cases where a PCP that is currently in the PCC Plan could be transitioning to a Primary Care ACO health plan on 3/1/18

The screen shot to the right shows you how the results would display in this scenario.

For example, the plan in red is Partners HealthCare Choice, so that tells you come 3/1/18, these two PCPs that currently participate in the PCC Plan will be moving to the Partners HealthCare Choice Primary Care ACO. The provider will no longer participate in the PCC Plan because of the PCP exclusivity.

The Type of Provider drop-downs were designed so that there is really no “wrong door” for any search. This means that some of the menu options overlap each other across drop-downs to ensure that no matter where the user might be looking, they can find what they need.

Example: Pharmacy is listed in the Service drop-down, and is also listed in the Hospital or Facility drop-down. The results are the same, it's just that different users could interpret the provider type categories differently.
